Research Students

This section of the documentation is intended for research students (PhD). It deals with the procedures and practices associated with your research degree. Other activities such as teaching and marking are covered in the Staff Documentation which you should also have access to. Each research degrees is unique in terms of its content and structure, your supervisor will often be the first port of call for advice. The documentation only covers those procedural areas that are common to all PhDs in the department.

- PhD Handbook