Basic information

Local (government run) archaeological museum in a small Corsican town. The museum houses c. 60,000 objects and presents the archaeology of the local area.

Mesolithic collections

It is unclear how large the Mesolithic collection is but prehistoric material makes up a large proportion of the collection.

Mesolithic presentation

The Mesolithic displays appear to make up a reasonable portion of the first hall and are presented as the 'first people of Corsica'.
