

PhD Handbook - Careers/employability

Careers and Placements at the University of York offers information and advice to support postgraduate researchers with skills development and career planning in conjunction with RETT. You can expect:

- impartial and confidential careers guidance from our team of careers consultants to help you consider your future career option;
- access to events and dedicated workshops on campus, offering you the opportunity to meet employers and build on your skills;
- online resources, and reference materials available in the Careers and Placements building.
